Betty's Blog

I read somewhere recently that the latest fashion idea is 'multi-layering' - well today I'm really in fashion.....woolly jumper, woolly vest, woolly scarf and finished off with tracksuit pants and "slipper socks". At least with social isolation, one is able to really be comfortable!

The COM had a meeting today to see if the re-opening of the club might be in the nearer future. Since our last meeting, a small sub-committee has been working very hard to prepare a re-opening plan as required by the NSW Govt and CCC authorities. I was stunned to read the complexities of dealing with the COVID-19 virus if we were to re-open—even though committee members are keen for this to happen.

For example: the whole of the club's interior will have to be changed to satisfy social distancing rules; entry/exit to the club would have to be policed; only limited numbers of members could be accommodated at any one time; health of entrants to club must be checked; cleaning of all touchable areas to be cleaned after any activity session.....and so the list goes on and on and on..

Discussion of these features were extensively discussed as was the fact that a large number of volunteers would be needed for each session. Finally, it was decided to meet again next week when all members would have had time to fully absorb the ramifications of the plan details. Other factors that have to be taken in to consideration is the rapidly changing impact of COVID-19 on the community on virtually a daily basis, and the "high risk" nature of our members' age group.

I must admit my head was whirling by the time we'd finished and I was pleased to get home and put my feet up while I sipped a coffee.

On a completely different subject.....like most of the population I have a smartphone. Unlike most of the population, I have to admit I belong to the 'smartphone dummies'. Because I don't use it often (I'm old enough to prefer a landline) the biggest problem I find is that I forget to plug it in and charge it, so it's a case of 'no charge no talk'. Don't be like me! Use your smartphone or your landline to keep in touch with your friends—you'll enjoy the experience and so will they! "Bye for now....Bettybee

JOKE TIME!

A man is feeling ill so he goes to see his doctor. The doctor checks him over and says, "Sorry, I have some bad news—you have Yellow 24, a really nasty virus. It's called that because it turns your blood yellow and you usually only have 24 hours to live. There's no known cure so just go home and enjoy your final precious hours on earth...."

So he trudges home to his wife and breaks the news. Distraught, she asks him to go to the bingo with her that evening because he's never been with her before.

They arrive at the bingo, and with his first card he wins $50.00, plus an additional $100 because he's got a full line. With his next card he gets a full house and wins $500 so he decides to get a National Game card. When that game comes up, he wins again.....a sum of $10,000.00.

The bingo caller gets him up on stage and says, "Son, I've been calling for 20 years and I've never seen this happen. You must be the luckiest man in the world."

"Lucky?" the man screams.

"I'll have you know I have Yellow 24."

"F*** me," Says the bingo caller, "you've won the meat raffle as well!"

The Great Lao-Tzu said: "It is only when you see a mosquito land on your testicles that you realise there is always a way to solve problems without using violence."

I'm giving up drinking for a month.

Sorry, bad punctuation.

I'm giving up. Drinking for a month.
